

eRecruiter ATS is a solution for any organization looking to buy innovative technology and create their own private-labeled, feature-packed, Internet-based Applicant Tracking System.

The Problem

So you want to create a tracking system for all the applicants that apply to your company but lack the time, financial resources, and human capital to build such a complex application. What you want to find is an existing technology that you can buy, private label, and implement very quickly to streamline the hiring process without having to change the way your company currently manages the process.

The Solution

eRecruiter ATS is an Internet-based Applicant Tracking System that can be customized to work with your hiring process. With the ability to take an applicant from the first interaction with your company (whether through internal lead generation or a Web based application process) until an offer is made, you will have a full lifecycle hiring process that is completely automated.

Benefits

- Robust and feature-rich application built using state-of-the-art technology
- eRecruiter ATS can be private labeled, customized, and marketed as your own solution
- Speed to market versus the alternative of building your own solution
- Significantly less investment by you over the long term as the application is maintained and upgraded as the technology evolves
- Minimal investment in IT resources conserves cash for marketing and other brand-building activities

Product Description

eRecruiter ATS is a complete recruiting solution that can be private labeled, customized, and fully integrated with your existing systems. With all the features you desire in an Internet-based ATS, this product is ideal for organizations looking for speed to market and lowest cost of ownership.

With eRecruiter ATS you can:

- Manage the entire hiring process with an intuitive, customizable workflow engine
- Have a fully-functional, hosted Web site for external job applications
- Enjoy the flexibility of how your team interacts with eRecruiter ATS through an intuitive, highly customizable workflow engine
- Maintain multiple recruiting accounts and control access to accounts, jobs, candidates, etc.
- Run robust reports on all your recruiting metrics
- Utilize a sophisticated and customizable search engine
- Provide the eRecruiter ATS Management Dashboard to recruiters and hiring managers
- Integrate the eRecruiter ATS calendar of recruiting events with other external calendars (e.g. Outlook)
- Leverage eRecruiter's expertise to integrate an attractive, competitive, corporate job board for external candidates

Interested in eRecruiter ATS? Contact us to request product literature or an on-site product demonstration.